Thabo Mbeki, 1970s. (Courtesy of Thabo and Zanele Mbeki)
Thabo Mbeki at a cultural encounter session between the ANC Youth and Students Section and their German hosts, Beichlingen, German Democratic Republic, August 1971. In the first sequence, Mbeki and Poppy Nokwe, Duma Nokwe’s daughter, demonstrate how to dance to the kwela. In the second sequence, Mbeki leads his gumboot dancing troupe through its paces, with a little help from their German comrades. See page 298. (All photos courtesy of Tiny Nokwe)

Opposite Page

Top: The wedding ceremony of Thabo and Zanele Mbeki, Farnham Castle, Surrey, 23 November 1974. See page 300.

Centre: The Mbeki wedding party, Farnham Castle. Adelaide Tambo is second from left. See page 300.

Below left: Lunch at Farnham Castle. Rhiannon Gooding, Peter Lawrence and Mel Gooding are at the end of the table, on the right. See page 300.

Below right: Thabo Mbeki with Dr Yusuf Dadoo at Farnham Castle. See page 300.

(All photos courtesy of Thabo and Zanele Mbeki)
Top: Thabo Mbeki with George Nyandoro (left), a Zimbabwean freedom fighter, and Duma Nokwe (right), in the German Democratic Republic, early 1970s. (Mayibuye Archives)

Above: Thabo Mbeki with Duma Nokwe, early 1970s. (Courtesy of Tiny Nokwe)
Top: Thabo Mbeki and comrades, Swaziland, 1975. Oliver Tambo is standing at the back (far left). Kneeling in the front are (left to right) Stanley Mabizela, Albert Dhlomo, Thabo Mbeki, and ‘Comrade Duma’, whose arm was later blown off by a letter-bomb. See Chapter 23.
(Courtesy of Albert Dhlomo)

See page 477. (Courtesy of Carin Norberg)
Above: Thabo Mbeki accompanies Oliver Tambo to his one and only meeting with Mikhail Gorbachev, Moscow, November 1986.
See page 484. (Mayibuye Archives)

Below: Yusuf Dadoo’s 70th birthday celebration, Afro-Asian Solidarity Committee, Moscow, September 1979. The South Africans present were all members of the SACP leadership. (left to right) Dadoo, Josiah Jele, Dan Tloome, Moses Mabhida, Thabo Mbeki. Vladimir Shubin stands behind Tloome. See Chapter 30. (Mayibuye Archives)

Right: Thabo Mbeki in Lusaka, early 1980s. (Courtesy of Larry Craig)

Below: Thabo Mbeki outside his ‘home from home’, the Lusaka Intercontinental Hotel, with Gabriel Mokgoko and Dr Sam Motsuenyane of NaCoCo, May 1986.
See page 538. (Courtesy of Gabriel Mokgoko)
Top: Thabo Mbeki and Frederik van Zyl Slabbert, leading their respective ANC and IDASA delegations to west Africa, June 1987. See page 496. (Johnnic Communications)

Above: Thabo Mbeki with Gerhard Erasmus, Jannie Gagiano and Hardy Botha, Dakar, June 1987. See pages 510 ff. (Courtesy of IDASA Resource Centre)

Right: Van Zyl Slabbert and Thabo Mbeki with Thomas Sankara, president of Burkina Faso, Ouagadougou, June 1987. See page 514. (Courtesy of IDASA Resource Centre)

Above: The entire ANC and IDASA delegations at Goree Island, Senegal, June 1987. See pages 510 ff. (Courtesy of IDASA Resource Centre)
Top: Oliver Tambo and Thabo Mbeki at work, late 1980s.
(Courtesy of Thabo and Zanele Mbeki)

Above and left: Thabo Mbeki at the UN Special Committee against Apartheid, late 1970s. (Courtesy of ANC Archives, University of Fort Hare Main Library)

Opposite page

Top: Steve Tshwete, Thabo Mbeki and Chris Hani.

Right: Thabo Mbeki and Chris Hani.
(Both photographs courtesy of Thabo and Zanele Mbeki)
Top: Govan Mbeki, Joe Slovo and Thabo Mbeki at a reception at the Zambian State House for former political prisoners, January 1990. This was the first meeting between father and son in 18 years. See page 562.
(Zambian Information Service)

Above: Thabo Mbeki and Kenneth Kaunda, late 1980s.
(Zambian Information Service)
Top: The formal portrait of the first meeting between Nelson Mandela and Oliver Tambo in 30 years, Stockholm, March 1990. Between them sits Father Trevor Huddleston. Thabo Mbeki is on the floor, far right. See Chapter 34. (Courtesy of ANC Archives, University of Fort Hare Main Library)

Above: Reunion, January 1990. ANC leaders and released prisoners meet Oliver Tambo in Sweden. Epainette Mbeki is seated on the left; Thabo Mbeki on the floor. Oliver Tambo is standing in the centre, with Walter Sisulu and Joe Slovo to the right; Adelaide Tambo is standing at the far right. See Chapter 34. (Courtesy of Thabo and Zanele Mbeki)
Govan Mbeki, late 1980s. (Courtesy of Thabo and Zanele Mbeki)

Epainette Mbeki, late 1980s. (Courtesy of Thabo and Zanele Mbeki)

Thabo Mbeki, early 1980s. (Courtesy of ANC Archives, University of Fort Hare Main Archives)